Democrats Attract Record Turnout In Ottawa County

Hierholzer Urges Party To Get Out and Work Before Nov. 4 Election

Grand Haven (Special)—About 60 delegates crowded into the supervisors' room of the Court House Wednesday night for a county Democratic convention which chose eight delegates and eight alternates to the state Democratic convention in Lansing Saturday.

All available space in the room was used and chairs had to be taken in to accommodate the delegates. The official call was given by assistant convention chairman Roy A. Hierholzer in the absence of Charles E. Misner.

Delegates chosen were Lawrence P. Smith of Park township, Peter Van Eyck of Holland township, Mrs. Betty Veeder and Gertrude Vander Heuvel of Holland, George Verberkmoes, George Swiftney and Hierholzer of Grand Haven, John L. Hall of Coopersville.

Alternates are George Caball of Zeeland, Emily Shaffer of Holland, William Swart, Charles E. Misner and Robert Stearns of Grand Haven, Gerry Schermer of Zeeland township, Simon Borr of Holland township and Mrs. Marguerite Clevering of Spring Lake.

Hierholzer announced that all delegates are invited to have breakfast at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in the Emerald room of Roosevelt hotel with Rep. William Dawson of Illinois, vice-chairman of the Democratic National committee and keynote at the convention. The convention adopted resolutions giving whole-hearted support to Gov. Adlai Stevenson for President, Sen. Sparkman for vice president, Gov. G. Mennen Williams for governor, Sen. Blair Moody for U. S. senator and other state and county candidates.

In addressing the convention, Hierholzer said, "It is our belief we have some very outstanding people on the Democratic ticket this year. They are tops, as far as ability is concerned, to do the job for the offices they are seeking. They are some of the finest people in the Democratic party. However, the issue does not alone rest with them. We are on the firing line and we have a lot to do with the final decision and the result of our labors are going to, in a large way, determine the outcome of the election in November."

"I have every confidence that the ticket is going to be successful but let us not be over-confident so that on election day we are not on the job. If the Democrats of the country between now and election work in their communities and precincts and cities and townships and on election day see that the Democrats get out to vote, the situation is not going to be in doubt. It is going to mean a victory."

"I would like to offer this challenge to everybody here. You are each and every one of you a committee of one to see that in your respective neighborhood the story of the campaign is presented to your neighbors and your associates, and on election day you will do all in your power to see as many people as you can possibly contact and be sure to get out the vote. If you will accept that challenge I am sure Ottawa county is going to do a fine job and if Ottawa county does a fine job and the other 47 states do a fine job, it is going to mean a victory, but do not let anybody tell you their vote does not count. Let's do our job, that's our work."

Walter Chojnowski invited all delegates present to join the recently organized Ottawa County Democratic club.

Recognition was given the following Democratic candidates who were present: John Flieman, clerk; Frank Cherven, sheriff; Floyd Harrington, register of deeds; Jerry Schermer, drain commissioner; Robert Stearns, coroner; William Duga, surveyor, and Hierholzer, state representative.

Many persons commented this was the largest Democratic convention ever assembled in the county.

The following county officers were re-elected by the delegates: Misner, chairman; Betty Veeder, vice-chairman; Mrs. Josephine Sorensen, treasurer; Hierholzer, secretary.

Treated and released at Holland hospital were John De Ridder, 20, of route 1, East Saugatuck, who received cuts on his legs, Fredrick Hoffman, 37, of route 6, who received cuts on his right arm and leg; and George Dykstra, 14, of 355 West 19th St., who received cuts on his right arm.

Zeeland Water Report

Zeeland (Special)—Alfred Hanson, Muskegon consultant engineer, gave a report on the water supply at the regular meeting of the Board of Public Works Tuesday evening, and suggested the drilling of another test hole on the northern part of the present site. Further details of the report will be made as soon as the result of this test are known.

Zeeland (Special)—Nurses at Huizinga Memorial hospital in Zeeland recently were in a tizzy— and who could blame them.

Two babies were born less than 24 hours apart with the same last names, the same first and second initials, plus the mothers had identical first initials.

Born first was a boy, Keith Allen, to Mrs. Willis Van Haisma, 117 Allen St., Hudsonville on Aug. 7. On Aug. 8, a girl, Kathy Ann, was born to Mrs. William Van Haisma. Both babies have K. A. for their first and second initials.

Not even distant relatives, the two mothers met for the first time when they found themselves in the same room, awaiting delivery of their babies. Mail addressed simply, "Mrs. W. Van Haisma," sometimes was delivered to the wrong Van Haisma. The mix-up was quickly ironed out after one mother found herself reading a note from some unknown to her.

Mrs. Willis Van Haisma barely missed celebrating a double birthday when her baby was born less than 12 hours before her birthday.

Both mothers and babies now are home.

Local Guardsmen Leave Saturday For Summer Camp

Buses Will Transport Bulk of Men; Area Will Be 'Hollandized'

Eight Army trucks and three buses will leave Holland Army at 6 a.m. Saturday carrying 106 men and three officers of Co. D, 126th Infantry, Michigan National Guard, to their annual two-week field training period at Camp Grayling.

The buses are expected to arrive at camp at 10:15 a.m., with the equipment-carrying trucks pulling in a little later.

Wooden shoes and identification plates, distinctive to Holland will blossom out in front of tents, and new local flourishes will be added to the mess hall, according to present plans.

Despite the fact that the area will be almost set up because the Indiana and Ohio National Guards have been using Camp Grayling during the last month, it is expected that making Co. D's area home-like will take all of Saturday and most of Sunday.

The first week of training will embrace firing of all weapons. Then comes the visitors' week-end in the middle, with about 150 Holland folks expected to visit relatives and friends in camp. The week-end also features a division review before Gov. G. Mennen Williams, commander in chief.

The second week will be made up of regular Fifth Army tests, conducted on a small-unit basis. They will be conducted under simulated battle conditions which will include live ammunition.

After the second week, the Guards will break camp and return home Saturday, Aug. 30.

Already a small contingent of men has left Holland to attend the four-day pre-camp cooking school. Starting this session to be Roger Northuis and Karl Stob, cooks for Co. D.

One of the highlights of the camp will be selection of a three-man rifle group to be flown to national competition at Fort Benning, Ga. Holland has certified three men for the competition: Sgts. Clare Zwipec, Roy Strengtholt and Jerry Kline—and is accorded a good chance of placing on the team.

Kline also will be in competition for the title of "best soldier" of both the battalion and the camp. Winner of each competition is awarded a medal.

Relatives and friends are reminded to include full address on mail sent to Guardsmen while in camp, including full rank, name and unit designation. A sample address: Pvt. John Doe, Co. D, 126th Infantry Regiment, Michigan National Guard, Camp Grayling, Grayling, Mich.

Meanwhile, state police warned motorists that most northbound major highways will be heavily traveled by Army vehicles this week-end and urged caution in passing convoys. State, local and military police will handle traffic.

Central Ave., although outthit 7-4 in the nightcap, defeated Skippers 9-4.

Moose pitcher Ed Stille was coasting along with a neat two-hitter wrapped up in his hip pocket while his mates supported him with a two-run lead until the top of the seventh. Then a streak of wildness in which he walked three men, combined with Vern Vande Water's hit and an error put Sunoco ahead 3-2.

Moose rallied with two runs in the last of the seventh on a walk, hits by Les Doornwaard and Bill Zych and a wild pitch to end the game. Hits by Stille, Don Hulst, a walk and a wild pitch scored the two earlier Moose runs.

Case Velderman was the losing hurler and allowed seven hits, including two by Stille and two by Hulst. Vande Water had two of the three Sunoco safeties.

In the free scoring nightcap, Skippers scored two in the first on a hit by Jun Bremer, a walk, error and passed ball. Central Ave. came back in the same inning with a run on Don Ver Beek's hit and two errors.

It's V-J Day Today; No Celebration Here

Yes, it's V-J day today. But the day was considerably different from the day exactly seven years ago on Aug. 14, 1945, when the end of World War II was declared.

Following that momentous announcement at 6 p.m. everybody with a car converged on the downtown section, and Time Square on New Year's eve had nothing on Holland, Michigan, that night. Although some motorists didn't know it, they had extra cause for rejoicing—gasoline rationing was lifted.

In 1947 on the occasion of Holland's centennial celebration, the city arranged a V-J parade and picnic at Kollen park.

Task of Traffic Safety Discussed By Local Leaders

The continuing problem of traffic safety was hashed over by a group of leaders of various Holland organizations and public officials at a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The session was called to discuss the annual inventory of traffic safety activities for Holland compiled by the National Safety council.

The report deals in detail with several facets of the traffic program in Holland including traffic death record, accident records, traffic engineering, traffic law enforcement, traffic courts, school safety, public information and safety organization. The inventory was compiled from data furnished by Holland police, courts and other groups.

One of the recommendations made by the National Safety council was that a permanent city safety council be formed with members from the city, schools, police, courts and press. Purpose of the group would be to formulate a coordinated plan of action to combat accidents and to administer this plan. The consensus of those present favored immediate adoption of this recommendation, and a preliminary meeting has been set for Friday afternoon.

The inventory, which was explained in detail by Harry Porter, Jr., field representative for Michigan for the National Safety council, also analyzed Holland activities in the various traffic fields, and made several comments, criticisms and suggestions for improvement. These included:

Keep comprehensive accident reports and use them for studies of busy times and places where accidents occur most frequently; more off-street parking facilities; investigation of the use of one-way streets and other recent traffic movement developments; addition of six officers to the present police staff, formal training in traffic subjects and increase in volume of traffic law enforcement; increased volume of convictions on driver intoxication charges; appointment of a school person to supervise all safety education activities in the public schools; increased driver-training instruction; an effective public information program.

Several Holland folks also spoke on local traffic problems. Mrs. Margaret De Pree of the Board of Education expressed concern about the problem of school crossings on through streets, especially now that Pine Ave. is a through street; Prosecutor Wendell A. Miles, also a member of the Board of Education, concurred, and added that a full-time detective is needed by the police department to co-ordinate criminal and traffic violation cases; Municipal Judge Cornelius vander Meulen, who handles the traffic cases in Holland, urged instruction in gathering evidence by police officers; and all local leaders urged immediate formation of the safety council in Holland.

Mrs. Harter Macqueen of Lincoln school and Miss Mae Whitmer of Van Raalte school pointed out that parents share a large responsibility in safety education. They say schools teach good safety habits only to have parents force the children to break them—such as riding their children to school on a bicycle and crossing against red lights.

Mayor Harry Harrington presided at the meeting. Present were, besides those mentioned, Sgt. Lester Coykendall and Corp. Ed McGarvey of the Rockford State police post, Chief Jacob Van Hoff and Sgt. Ernest Bear of the Holland police department, City Manager Harold C. McClintock, Engineer Harold Zuidema, Fire Chief Andrew Klomparsen, City Inspector Joe Shashagay, Deputy Clayton Forry, Sidney Dykstra representing Holland Christian schools, and four members of the Holland insurance Agents association—Robert Wolbrink, Neil Wiersma, Bruce Van Leeuwen and Russ Klaasen.

Ex-Jurist Suffers Heart Attack Monday Evening

City Attorney Was Circuit Judge 18 Years; Practiced Law in City

Former Circuit Judge Orien S. Cross, 79, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at 1:20 a.m. Tuesday in Holland hospital where he had been taken following a seizure in his car in the City Hall parking lot early Monday evening.

For the last three years, the former judge has ably served Holland as its city attorney, devoting virtually full time to a part-time position. He had been in remarkably good health throughout the years and often mentioned he had not had a sick day since he was a child.

Cross was about 40 years old or younger when he was elected judge of the Ottawa-Allegan circuit, now known as the 20th judicial circuit.

He served as circuit judge 18 years and was succeeded by Fred T. Miles who also served 18 years. Judge Raymond L. Smith was elected to the post about four years ago.

The former judge was graduated from the University of Michigan law school and also obtained a master's degree there. He started his law practice in Paw Paw and later moved to Allegan where he served as prosecuting attorney. After his 18 years on the circuit bench, he became associated with the law firm of Diekmann, Cross and Ten Cate in Holland. About four years ago he was appointed associate municipal judge by Common Council and about a year later became city attorney.

The Crosses maintained their home at 587 Crescent Dr. in the Montello Park area and had a summer home at Macatawa Park. The judge was a life member of Saladin Temple and of the Masonic lodge at Allegan. He was a member of the Holland Rotary club, Social Progress club, Century club, Macatawa Bay Yacht club, Hope church and its Men's club.

As city attorney, he also was one of Holland city's five representatives on the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors, and was to have attended a meeting in Grand Haven this morning of the Public Health committee of which he was chairman.

As city attorney, he also was a member of the board of directors of the Holland Chamber of Commerce and headed the legislative and national affairs committee. He kept the board informed of developments on the legislative front, participated in several radio programs on such subjects, and was instrumental in organizing the "cracker barrel" session with Rep. Jerry Ford a year ago.

City Manager H. C. McClintock said the city attorney vacancy on Common Council would have to be filled by appointment. McClintock and other city officials expressed deep regret over the judge's passing and paid high tribute to his contributions to the city's welfare during his short years in office as city attorney.

Forty-seven years ago, the judge married the former Louise Griswold of Allegan in their cottage at Macatawa Park.

Surviving are the wife; a foster son, Harold H. Newcombe of New York City; a brother, Amasa of Kalamazoo, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Thursday at 2 p.m. from Nibbelink-Notier chapel with Dr. Marion de Velder of Hope church officiating. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery, Allegan.

Cars driven by Dick Schaftenaar of 50 West 14th St., and Herman Koning of 353 North State St., Zeeland, collided at the intersection of Riley and 100th Aves. north of Zeeland, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Schaftenaar was driving north on 100th Ave., and Koning west on Riley Ave. Damage to the front of the 1946 model Koning car was estimated at $200 and to the left rear and side of the 1950 model Schaftenaar car at $350. After the impact, the Schaftenaar car turned over on its side. Ottawa Deputy Archie Murphy and Zeeland police investigated.

Dutch to Engage Grand Havenites

Local Team Loses Ground by Bowing To South Haven

The Dutchmen lost ground in the league race Saturday night when they bowed to South Haven Merchants 4-3 in 10 innings. The win brought them down to a virtual tie for first place with the Grand Rapids Black Sox, only a half-game ahead of the Merchants.

South Haven went out ahead with two runs in the first inning Saturday night, but then Carl Reimink held the home team scoreless while Holland first tied it up and then went ahead, only to see the Merchants surge back with two runs in the last of the 10th.

A single by Zeke Piersma, sacrifice and single by Butts Kool sent home the first Holland run in the sixth. A walk, sacrifice and single by Loren Wenzel tied the count in the ninth inning. In the top of the 10th, Don Van Lente pranced home on Tony Wenzel's triple to give the Dutch a one-run lead that vanished in the last of the 10th on a walk and doubles by Sherm Stone and Art Hamlin.

Reimink went the distance for the Dutch, giving 10 hits, five walks and striking out five. Holland found the southpawing of Jack Turner hard to solve as the losers collected only six safeties while Turner walked five and struck out 15.

Two Drowned as Rowboat Upsets in Wash of Freighter

Four Others Rescued In Channel Tragedy At Grand Haven Harbor

Grand Haven (Special)—Two crewmen of the freighter Sierra, a gravel boat, which frequently comes to Grand Haven, were drowned in the Grand river channel at 7:20 p.m. Saturday when a small rowboat with six men aboard was swamped in the wash of the freighter.

Victims were Edward Williams, 42, Chicago, and Erwin W. Wussow, 37, Alexandria, Minn.

Rescued were Seaman Richard Krauss of the Coast Guard in command of the small boat, and three other Sierra crewmen, William Temme, Jr., 21, Manitowoc, Wis.; Vincent Michels, 24, Port Washington, Wis.; and Julius Leroy Archer, 32, Albemarle, N. C.

The five crewmen were still ashore when the Sierra left the Construction Aggregates Co. early in the evening loaded with gravel. A motorist took the five men to the Coast Guard station where an operator radioed the freighter to be ready to take the men aboard in the channel.

At the Coast Guard station the five crewmen and the Coast Guardsmen boarded a 14-foot flat-bottomed rowboat to stand by for the freighter. But as the freighter approached the wash swamped the small boat, throwing all six into the choppy channel. The boat overturned just west of the Coast Guard station and alongside the minnow concession of the state park.

Two men, Coast Guardsman Krauss and Archer, stayed with the boat and later grasped life rings thrown to them from crewmen aboard the freighter. James Vurla, 24, Algoma, Wis., dived overboard to aid in the rescue and he and Michels held Archer up. Krauss held onto Williams for a time but had to let go to save his own life.

Clifford Swisher helped save Krauss and Archer, and J. P. Kitley of Lansing who was piloting his yacht in the channel tossed a life ring out to Temme. Temme missed the first two throws and connected with the third after he had gone down twice. Henry Klaassen of Ferrysburg and Ollie Castle of Spring Lake also assisted in the rescue.

Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek, Undersheriff Harry Neuma and Deputies Clayton Forry and Nelson Lucas assisted in dragging the recovered. The two bodies were recovered by Coast Guards, one at 9 p.m. and the other at 10 p.m. in the same spot where they went down.

Crowds gathered on both sides of the channel during the rescue operations in which the Coast Guard operated three boats and the sheriff's department one.

The Sierra, owned by the Columbia Transportation Co. of Cleveland, remained nearby for sometime and continued on its way to South Chicago about 9 p.m. Arthur Hendrickson of Cleveland, Ohio, was captain of the freighter. Witnesses said the captain turned the rudder to divert the wash when he saw the boat. Had he not done so, the men might have been drawn under the big 458-foot vessel.

Both bodies were taken to the Kammeraad funeral home and Wussow's body was put aboard a train Sunday night for Alexandria, Minn. Although Williams' papers carried many addresses of 1312 East 62nd St., Chicago, officers there were unable to associate him with that address. Attempts were made to trace a sister in Marquette, Mich.

Temme, one of the crewmen who was saved, had been on the freighter only four nights and it was his first trip to Grand Haven. Coroner Joseph E. Kammeraad rendered a verdict of death due to accidental drowning.

VOLLEYS FROM AMBUSH

The telephone interrupted what had been a quiet evening in the Junius B. Wood residence in Waukazoo. Dialogue was as follows:

"Is this W-O-O-D?" spelling out the name.

"That's right," the spelling being correct.

"Your picture isn't good," in a severely critical tone.

"Sorry, but it's too old to change now."

"The children don't like it," the voice explained.

"What do you want me to do about it?" thinking this was a new baby sitter gag.

A pause followed without the expected advice to turn out the light or go out and look at the moon.

"Is this Wood in Grand Rapids?" becoming more conciliatory.

"No, it's Wood in Holland."

"Is this Wood-TV?"

"No, Wood-JB."

That may have improved the picture. The telephone clicked and the caller was gone.

Dunno wot we'd do for this call if it weren't for some good contributors like Junius Wood. Maybe things don't happen to all of us like they do to the retired foreign correspondent living at Waukazoo, but certainly cute funny things happen some of the time. Share them with us.

Dan Vander Werf, the good-natured court reporter who plies regularly between Grand Haven and Allegan to cover Circuit Court trials, contributed a gem of his own in connection with the three-day trial about ducks in Spring Lake.

"There were a lot of wise quacks," he remarked.

Bill Olive went fishing on the north pier a few days ago and got his limit of perch in a short time. But while he was fishing the wind came up and the boat returned to take the fishermen back to shore. As one wave swept over the breakwater, away went Bill's pail and all the fish.

Two days later he went fishing on the south pier and got his limit and kept 'em.

The Sentinel received an unsigned order for a classified ad for a housekeeper for a man whose wife died some time ago. The ad enclosing money presumably was sent in by a neighbor. Said neighbor is asked to get in touch with the business office before the ad is run.

Ottawa county was the first to report its complete vote to Lansing, according to Pete Damstra, chairman of the Ottawa county canvassing board. Pete ascribes the prompt service to three things: The voting machines, the efficiency of the county clerk, and the co-operation of the clerk with the canvassing board.

A spotted fawn, too young to understand the problem it faced in wire fences, was trapped by one and might have died had it not been for a conservation-minded railroad crew.

The story starts north of Grayling, where a New York Central freight train was chugging north on a run to Mackinac.

Along the rail right-of-way at that point is a wire fence and as the train rolled through the countryside, the engineer saw a fawn struggling to free itself from a mesh of the fence wires.

Blowing a signal to conductor John L. Martin, the engineer began to slow and finally got the train stopped nearly a mile beyond where he'd seen the fawn. Back went the train and crew to where the woodland youngster was trapped, and after working carefully, the fawn was freed. It had not been injured and was apparently all right, though quite weak from the ordeal.

Then the northern Michigan division of the New York Central was able to get back to work.

Lake Michigan Now Near Peak

Detroit—Lt. Col. William N. Harris, district engineer of the U. S. Lake Survey, Corps of Engineers, announced today that current levels of the Great Lakes indicate that the lower lakes are receding and that the upper lakes are at or near their peak elevations for 1952.

Lakes Michigan and Huron continue to rise, reflecting more than average supply during the last 15 days. However, it is believed that the lakes are now at their peak for the year.

Lake Superior also continues to rise and is expected to reach its maximum stage in September, approximately two inches higher than the July 16-31 level.

Lake St. Clair rose slightly during July establishing a new all-time high monthly average record of 577.50 feet. The level of this lake is expected to start slowly receding during August.

Lake Erie has had no appreciable change during the two periods in July and remains about four inches below the May stage. Lake Ontario continues to recede and the July 16-31 level is about seven inches below the June stage which appears to be the high for the year.

Lake Michigan levels had an average of 582.50 feet for the last half of June, 582.55 feet for the first half of July and 582.75 feet for the last half of July. Previous record for July listed 583.60 feet in 1876. The previous all-time record high was 583.68 in June, 1886.

Two Holland boys were in Detroit Saturday playing in an all-star boys baseball game held at Briggs stadium, home of the Tigers. Bob Van Dyke (left) and Terry Burns were picked for the team after their performances in the recent Heart state-wide tournament. Burns started in left field for the out-staters against the Detroit area all-stars, and got a single and walk. But rain postponed the contest after the third inning and Van Dyke didn't get a chance to play. He was slated to start the fourth frame at third base. First Half Champ Main Auto Loses In Thrilling Game

Hulst Brothers defeated first half champion Main Auto with a last inning rally Tuesday night to remain in a tie for the lead in the Holland City Softball league along with Veterans of Foreign Wars who nosed out Barber Ford to remain in contention.

Hulst came up with three runs in the last of the seventh and won out a Main Auto lead and win 5-4. VFW broke up a scoreless pitching duel with three runs in the last of the sixth to turn back Fords 3-0.

The Autos were sailing along on a 4-0 lead behind mound ace Jason Ebels when the never-say-die Hulst outfit went to work. The Autos had filled the bases with three bunts in the second inning and three runs scored on singles by Mel Koenes and Roddy Maat. Fourth Auto run tallied in the fifth on a hit batsman, stolen base and single by Guite Van Langevelde.

Hulst meanwhile failed to hit. In the fifth two were out when two runs scored on an error, walk and timely single by Rube Otten. Then came the climactic seventh inning.

Bob Vork and Don Knoper waited out walks to lead off the inning. Vork was replaced on a fielder's choice leaving two men on base. Then Otten lined a single to left to drive in one run. On a short fly ball to right, Ron Brinks broke for third and when the ball got away from an Auto infielder he scooted home with Otten taking third. A moment later Ebels uncorked a wild pitch and the winning run scored.

Knoper was the winning pitcher, giving up seven hits including two each by Maat and Ebels. The Auto hurler allowed only three safeties, including two by Otten. In the first game, Floyd Vandenberg of VFW and Norm Boeve of Fords hooked up in a tight pitchers duel. Each hurler allowed only five safeties.

Only runs of the game scored in the sixth when Bill Franks led off for VFW with a triple and scored on a fielders choice. Then Al Glupker nailed a two-run homer over the leftfield fence.

Glupker had two of the VFW safeties, and Al Piersma had two for Fords.

The results left Hulst and VFW tied for first with an 8-3 record each, while Main Auto is one game behind at 7-4.

Three Teachers For Public Schools Okayed by Board

Only One Vacancy Exists In Entire System, Scott Informs School Board

With the hiring of three new teachers and one substitute, the Board of Education was informed Monday night by Supt. Walter W. Scott that only one vacancy exists at present in the entire public school faculty for the new term which opens in September. The vacancy exists in the special education department, a position particularly hard to fill, Scott said. He added, however, that the department would operate even if the work has to be done by a substitute teacher.

The three new teachers hired are in the fields of elementary library, high school Latin and music.

Mrs. Henry Alexander whose home town is Hopkins was engaged as elementary librarian for the coming year. She is a graduate of Hudsonville high school and attended Western Michigan college two years. She has had six years' experience in elementary grades and junior high. She is married and has two children.

Miss Golda Gaskins, who has had 21 years of teaching experience in South Dakota, Ohio, Colorado and Michigan, will teach high school Latin succeeding Miss Maibelle Geiger who retired this year. Miss Gaskins received a B. and M. A. degrees from the University of South Dakota and has been teaching in Marietta.

Granville Cutler, who will teach music and social science, hails from Benton Harbor. He was graduated from Benton Harbor high school, Western Michigan college, and did graduate work at the University of Michigan and the University of Colorado. He has had seven years' experience in Three Oaks township schools. He assisted in summer music classes here for two weeks this summer when Director Arthur C. Hills taught at Interlochen.

The board also approved the appointment of Mrs. Dwight Yntema as substitute teacher for Emily Shoup who requested a year's leave of absence because of the illness of her mother. Mrs. Yntema, who also substituted in the mathematics classes of Hannah Parkyn, was hired for such time as may be necessary. Miss Shoup's father died recently.

The following committee appointments were announced by President Jay L. De Koning:

Buildings and grounds—Ernest V. Hartman, Jay L. De Koning, Alvin J. Cook.

Teachers—Vernon D. Ten Cate, Mrs. Winter, Wendell A. Miles.

Schools—Margaret De Pree, Ten Cate, Cook.

School forest—Lester J. Kuypers, Mrs. De Pree, Hartman, William R. Hornbaker and E. J. Yeomans.

Claims and accounts—Hallan, Kuypers, Miles.

Referred to the schools committee was a question on racing traffic on through streets in the vicinity of schools. All public schools are located on or near through streets, it was pointed out.

Supt. Scott presented school census figures, listing a total of 5,298 children under the age of 20 in Holland city, and 3,613 between the ages of 5 and 19 inclusive. Last year, the over-all total was 5,173 and the 5-19 bracket 3,450.

Scott also announced a two-day pre-school conference to orient new teachers and share the experiences of teachers during the summer. He also listed some tentative aims of the school board for the coming year, with emphasis on surveying the needs of a new high school; improvements in teaching, particularly on the high school level, constant upkeep of building and grounds, and a new financial accounting system.

Announcement was made that the board at a special meeting called Aug. 1 accepted the bid of Vanderkolk and son for $12,990 for improvements to the shower rooms in the girls' gymnasium and provide storage space. The Vanderkolk bid was not the lowest bid, but it assured prompt delivery of the materials as required in the specifications.

Claims and accounts for July totaled $52,036.19 of which $35,586.36 went for teachers' salaries. All trustees were present. President De Koning presided and Trustee Winter gave the invocation.

RESPECT FOR CONGRESS

"We must restore respect on the part of the chief executive for the congress of the United States."

The author of that statement is Dwight D. Eisenhower. The sentence was obviously slanted at President Truman, who won the 1948 election largely on the issue of breaking down respect for congress and who almost invariably gives the impression even now that congress is usually out of step with righteousness and statesmanship whenever it refuses to be a presidential rubber stamp.

While the Eisenhower statement is of course political—all such statements are in an election year
—it is none the less true for that reason. Respect on the part of the chief executive for the direct representatives of the people was taken for granted by the men who framed the constitution. Whenever it is impaired or lost, as happens periodically, our government loses that nice balance that is the glory of American democracy.

Note that Mr. Eisenhower did not suggest that the chief executive should become subservient to congress. That would result in an imbalance that would be just as undesirable. In theory at least the president and congress are two of the people's three servants that divide the responsibility of office on an equal footing. The third servant is of course the supreme court, a servant that both the late Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman tried to relegate to a subordinate position.

And Truman has consistently given the impression that he thinks of congress as an adjunct to the executive office not as a co-partner. He has developed the fantastic theory that one man, if that man is himself, is of necessity wiser than several hundred direct representatives of the American people.

It is quite easy for him to win
support for his strictures on congress. Among several hundred office holders there are bound to be enough men who do foolish things so that a presidential critic can legitimately hold them up to scorn.
But congress as a whole is at least not more foolish than the executive branch of the government has been.

In any event, Truman's almost blanket condemnation of congress is a condemnation of the American people. For those congressmen after all represent us and on the whole reflect our point of view.
A restoration of respect on the part of the executive for congress is a restoration of presidential respect for the American people.

And it may be added that congress owes a similar respect for the presidential office.

Sunday School Lesson

The Tragedy of Saul

1 Samuel 15:17-22; 18:6-9; 31:3, 4

By Henry Geerlings

Saul's ultimate failure proves that he was not the right man for the high office for which he had been chosen. His career can be summed up in three brief words—deception, disobedience, destruction.

Saul had committed a great offense when he intruded into the office of the priest and offered up the sacrifice in the absence of Samuel, and there is no indication that he ever repented of this.
He committed another great act of disobedience when he overcame
the Amalekites, but failed to destroy all they had and kill their king. God knew of all people, and he revealed it to Samuel.

The prophet grieved at the news. He did not rejoice in iniquity.
He had objected to the people in their clamor for a king, but now that they had him he was concerned that Saul should succeed. No Christian should ever rejoice at the failure of another even of one who has supplanted him.

Samuel brought the message of God to Saul. God would not have to justify his condemnation of any man, but he takes the time to make very clear the reason for Saul's rejection. No one should ever be able to say that God had dealt unfairly. Saul was reminded of the grace of God which made him king. He was reminded of the commission which had been given to him to destroy the Amalekites.

God uses two words to describe the sin of Saul. First, he calls it rebellion. God had a right to command Saul and it was Saul's duty to render unquestioning obedience.
But he chose to ignore, in part at least, what God asked him to do.
Second, he also calls it stubbornness. That is simply a persistence of one's own will. The first is likened to witchcraft, and the second to idolatry. Now God definitely rejected him from being king.

In the beginning Saul had given the impression of being a very humble man, and also of being a brave man. He had hidden when it was apparent that he had been chosen to be the first king. This was commendable, if genuine.
Then came the battle of Jabeshgilead in which the Ammonites were completely defeated and Saul rose greatly in the estimation of the people. Some one remembered those who had despised him at his inaugural and demanded that they be brought forth and put to death.
But again Saul seemed very generous and great-hearted and spared their lives.

In studying the life of Saul and in tracing his moral failure different students will find different starting points. For our part we are struck with his lack of spiritual sense. If he had any religious instruction in his home, he never showed any of its effects. Evidently he took no notice of interest in the religious life of the people. Though Samuel was a national figure, Saul seemed to be unaware of him or of his ministry. And Saul never showed any improvement in this respect. He remained blind and indifferent to the realm of spiritual life and truth. He lived in a time of spiritual enlightenment. Under the leadership of Samuel the nation had experienced a great spiritual revival. He had banished idolatry, restored the forms of worship, and had taught the people the law. All this was a matter of common knowledge.

For a time after his election
Saul gave some outward recognition to the Lord. When he fought the Ammonites and was victorious
he gave credit to God. But he did not continue to do the bidding of God. He was finally rejected.
Samuel had not seen Saul after his rejection. At God's command Samuel had anointed Saul's successor and even then he remained loyal to Saul as long as he lived.
Such was the sad end of a man who began with great promise and with great public acclaim, but who was never genuinely sincere, and who became proud and puffed up as a result of his successes and was unwilling to obey God. That is one of the great truths of this lesson. God demands that we obey him. If we refuse we shall also perish. Saul's life was a failure from every standpoint, and all because he did not obey God.

At Home After Northern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hessler

After a northern wedding trip,
Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Hessler
are at home on Van Buren St., Hudsonville. The couple exchanged wedding vows in Central Avenue Christian Reformed parsonage on Thursday, July 24. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Haverkamp.

Mrs. Hessler, the former Joyce Elaine Hulst, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hulst of 18
West 17th St. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hessler of Virginia Park.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length white nylon mar-

was held in place by a white satin clutch edged with pearls. An orchid centered her bouquet of white roses.

Attending the couple were Mrs.

Grandstanding...

by Dick Millman

It was an unusual set of circumstances that made defending men's city tennis champion Peter Paulus the No. 3 choice to retain his title in the tournament now underway.

Paulus was seeded No. 3 behind
two Tennessee stars who play out of Castle Park—Gavin Gentry in
No. 1 and Jim Robinson in No. 2.
Tourney officials explain that the two out-staters were put at the top in deference to their performances in other recent tourneys
hereabouts—including the Castle Park tourney—and in recognition of their net excellence.

The top-seeded positions in other classifications went to defending champions—Barbara Stagg in women's, Dave Moran in junior boys' and Betty Schepers
in junior girls'.

Incidentally, many of the younger players are competing in more than one age bracket. The entire women's field of eight contestants, with the exception of champion Stagg, also is included in the girls' competition.

The biggest jump, however,
were made by Hank Visscher, Bill Japings and Paul Dykema, all of whom belong in the boy's division but are included in the running for the men's championship.

Holland high music teacher Art Hills is sympathizing greatly with his younger brother Jack, recent graduate of Bradley university who signed a professional baseball contract this spring.

Jack was assigned to the Green Bay, Wis., team in the Cleveland Indians farm system as a shortstop. But when one of those expensive bonus players turned up who also was a shortstop, Jack moved over to first base.

All was going well at the initial sack for young Mr. Hills—he was batting over .300 and fielding almost flawlessly—when he broke his leg in two places just above

the ankle while sliding into home.
Now Jack's baseball career is finished for this year.

While at Bradley, Jack played both varsity basketball and baseball for three years and was captain of his team.

Holland's George Zuverink salted away his ninth win of the year for the Indianapolis Indians last week-end with a neat five-hit 3-2 victory over St. Paul. Zuverink bested Clem Labine of Brooklyn Dodger fame, allowing no walks and striking out seven. George's record as of then was nine wins and nine losses.

The Michigan-Indiana football game at Ann Arbor on Oct. 11 has been elected as high school band day at Ann Arbor, with 100 Michigan high school bands expected to take part in the ceremonies.

The Chicago American Giants of the Negro National league will play an all-star team from the Kalamazoo city baseball league on Aug. 23 for the injured players benefit fund. This is not the same team that crumbled before the Holland Flying Dutchmen on Memorial Day.

Richard Carr, former Hillsdale high school teacher and track coach, is assistant trainer for the college All-Stars for their game with the Los Angeles Rams in Chicago Friday night.

Construction has begun for

283 Youngsters Get Red Cross Swimming Awards

Total Certificates Will Exceed 500-Mark Before
Season Is Completed

A total of 283 swimming certificates have been awarded to young people in the Holland area by the Red Cross, following completion of the first session of the swimming program at Port Sheldon this summer. Certificates were awarded 248 beginners, 20 intermediates, seven swimmers and eight advanced swimmers.

A total of 110 certificates were awarded to students taking similar lessons at Stearns bayou out of Grand Haven. Thus the total awards made during the summer will exceed the 500-mark, since some 200 students are currently enrolled in a second session at Port Sheldon, most of them in the more advanced phases of swimming.

Red Cross officials feel that this program is definitely an essential part of the project of "water-proofing" Ottawa county. It is a community project with the city recreational department the Port Sheldon Beach association and the Red Cross working together.

Communists Reported Giving Ground In French Labor Union Membership

By Hal Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau

Washington (Special) — Communist labor strength is weakening in France, U. S. Civil Service Commissioner Frances Perkins said here today. The former secretary of labor has just returned from an observation trip to Europe including attendance at the 35th International Labor Organization conference in Geneva, Switzerland.

"For the first time since the war, anti-Communist union membership exceeds the Communist membership," Commissioner Perkins said in an exclusive interview. "The independent Christian groups are gaining fastest."

There are three reasons, according to the alternate ILO delegate:

1. The workers are earning more.

2. French Communist supporters are disillusioned since their party failed to live up to its promises.

3. No longer does the Communist party serve as a rallying point for Frenchmen as during wartime when Communists earned some

Rink Handcuffs Grand Haven Bats In League Contest

The Holland Flying Dutchmen held onto their slim first place position in the Southwestern Michigan Baseball league Monday night as young Willie Rink twirled a seven-hit victory over the Grand Haven Athletics to win 6-1.

Thus Holland continues in first place with a 7-3 won-lost record. The Dutchmen have one league game left this week, meeting Muskegon at home on Thursday night in a game transplanted from Muskegon.

Holland scored one run in the fourth on a walk, error and double by Dave Kemper. Two more crossed in the fifth on a walk, single by Rink and two, more Grand Haven errors.

Three insurance tallies crossed in the seventh on two walks, a single by Loren Wenzel, a bases-loaded single by Kemper and a one-base knock by Clare Van Liere.

Only Grand Haven counter crossed in the ninth on Waggy Wagonmaker's second single of the evening and a triple by pinch-hitter Nick Marod.

Rink was in top form, giving up only seven hits and striking out 14 batters. He was seldom in trouble along the way and only once did the Athletics have more than one man on base at a time.

Losing hurler Lou Meyers was reached for nine hits but walked nine men which contributed to his downfall.

The loss gives Grand Haven a league mark of four wins and four losses.

Two wide lace panels down the back extended to a chapel-length train. A capulet of lace and cording held in place the double-tiered ice blue fingertip veil of illusion. Eucharist lilies, stephanotis and ivy formed the cascade bouquet.

Miss Sandra Swaney, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Westraide, Miss Carol Kerr, Jackson, Miss Nancy Matheson, Grand Rapids and Miss Diane Wilson of Wayne. All attendants wore iridescent blue silk gowns over taffeta with fitted bodices, portrait necklines, short shirred sleeves and empire waists. Lt. Governor William C. Vandenberg of Holland, unsuccessful candidate for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, said Monday "there is no basis for rumors" that he would bolt the Republican party despite bitterness over what he termed "personal attacks on me by the Alger forces."

Rumors of such action cropped up throughout the state during the week-end after Gordon F. Van Eenennaam of Muskegon, announced he would quit the party and support Stevenson for president and Williams for governor. Van Eenennaam said he was bitter about the "personalized attacks" on Vandenberg who lost overwhelmingly to Alger in the primary.

"My name has been dragged through the mud but I'm not bolting the party and my position is the same," Vandenberg said today after he was informed of Van Eenennaam's statement and rumors that there was a chance he would follow suit.

Vandenberg said "the talk is purely rumor and there is no basis for it."

The body was taken to the Kammeraad funeral home, where services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. Burial will be in Lake Forest cemetery.

Ottawa Convention Draws Big Turnout At Court House

Delegates, Alternates Named to State Confab In Grand Rapids

Grand Haven (Special)—"With 24 million American people on federal payrolls, it won't be easy for the Republicans to win in November," U.S. Senator Homer Ferguson told Ottawa county Republicans at their county convention in the Court House Tuesday night.

More than 200 persons crowded into the court room for the convention which served both as an inspirational rally and as a business meeting to name 27 delegates and 27 alternates to the state Republican convention in Grand Rapids Saturday. Resolutions also were adopted.

Sen. Ferguson said it's always an inspiration to return to the people back home and realize anew that sovereignty is in the people and not in the appointed representatives in Washington.

"Whenever I enter a court room like this, I always realize again how good it is to have justice under law and not under men."

The speaker pointed to the 44,612 federal employees in Michigan, the 90,000 in Ohio and 280,000 in California, to say nothing of the 174,000 civil employees overseas outside of the armed forces.

"Bureaucracy today takes about one-third of the country's income and we all know inflation has reduced our dollar to less than 50 cents. Most people can't comprehend how much our government is spending. When we say that the U. S. government spends six times the entire value of the state of Michigan every year, we get a little idea of the magnitude. U. S. appropriations run about $87 billion, and the entire state of Michigan is valued at $13 billion."

"The greatest issue we face today is liberty and peace in the world, and we must work for it. Man has striven for freedom all his life, yet all the security in the world to a slave means nothing. America is a great country, yet for every privilege we enjoy there must be a corresponding responsibility in the government. The capitalist system, though not perfect, has been the best way of obtaining freedom."

"Yet we almost lost our freedom in 1952 when the President seized the steel plants. We were saved by an opinion of a judge who was appointed by the current administration who ruled according to the Constitution that the President had no such power. It was a great day for the people of the United States to know we have a government of law and not of men."

Sen. Ferguson answered the oft-asked question on why doesn't Congress put the clocks in Washington behind bars. He explained that Congress must investigate on to pass laws and has no power to prosecute except in cases of impeachment. All prosecution must be done by channels such as the attorney general's department. He added President Truman has refused to allow government records to be used in investigations, stamping such investigations as "red herrings."

He spoke highly of General Eisenhower and Senator Richard Nixon. "If you want General Eisenhower to carry out what he stands for, you must elect a Republican Senate and a Republican House and elect a Republican ticket from the top to the bottom," he said.

Serving as convention chairman was J. W. Bussard, new Grand Haven attorney. A county chairman and other officers will be named at a meeting Thursday night.

Zeeland Citizens Seek Meter Halt

Zeeland (Special)—Sentiment appears sharply divided in discussions on action by the City Council in ordering parking meters for the downtown area.

Latest action is the circulation of petitions for referendum by a committee headed by local attorney Randall Dekker. The petition would halt council from taking any further action and would stop delivery of the meters until a referendum could be held. The petitions have been placed in several downtown stores.

A meeting of the downtown merchants last week, called by the retail affairs division of the Chamber of Commerce, was adjourned without any action, pro or con, being taken.

VFW Drill Team, Dancers Appear

Holland was represented at the Gladioli festival at Coloma by its big parade-Saturday afternoon by two parade entries.

The increasingly-popular drill team from Henry Walters post No. 2144, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was the first marching unit in Saturday's parade. The 21-man precision outfit performed under the direction of Sgt. Harold Barr.

A unit of Klomp dancers also appeared in the parade under the guidance of Chamber of Commerce and Tulip Time officials. The Coloma parade included about a dozen floats and other individual entries.

Next appearing in the Holland VFW drill team will be Sept. 13 at the Allegan county fair.

Allegan County Has Long, Lively GOP Convention

Delegates Refrain From Taking Part in Bonine Promotion for State Job

Allegan (Special)—Allegan county's Republican convention "intentionally" refrained Tuesday night from endorsing any candidates for office seeking nomination in Saturday's state convention in Grand Rapids.

A resolutions committee report unanimously approved by one of the largest county conventions in recent years thus avoided taking part in the 4th district squabble over endorsement of Sen. Elwood Bonine for the job of auditor general.

The convention, which finally adjourned after midnight, clearly reflected a desire on the part of rank-and-file delegates to "take over." Where in the past much routine procedure was planned in advance by the county committee, rank-and-file delegates made themselves heard.

The resolutions committee revised resolutions written in advance. The committee on the order of business suggested revision in the manner in which state delegates are chosen and on a motion from the floor the traditional caucusing by tiers was abandoned.

The convention adopted a statutory system of "caucusing by delegate districts" based on the total vote for secretary of state in the last election. The new system resulted in the election of several new faces with young Republicans gaining more recognition than in the past.

Delegates named were Edward Hutchinson of Fennville, James Boyce of Laketown, E. V. Thomas of Douglas, Lemuel Brady of Saugatuck, Ben Lohman of Hamilton, John Tien of Fillmore, William Mooney of Salem, Rollo Mosher of Wayland, Leo Hoffman, Weldon Rumery and Dwight Cheever of Allegan, Leo Gould of Plainwell, Albert Arenhovel of Gunplai, Albert Lindsley and Frank Paulos of Otsego, Milan Levett of Allegan township.

Alternates include Ernest Hofecker, John Axe, Vern Reynolds, Catherine Wark, Richard Putman, Harry Smith, Jr., Elmer Johnson, Daryl Lukins, Vern Mulder, Gerrit Lampen, Ben Rankin, Carl Hofmaster, Russell Rugaber, Sib Rumery and Henry H. Boeve.

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman was the convention keynoteer. He was introduced by Dwight Cheever, convention chairman, as Michigan's "Mr. Republican." Cheever pointed out that Hoffman, who would serve as chairman of the House committee on executive expenditures if the Republicans gain control of Congress in November, would be the key man in implementing the domestic economy plank in the GOP platform.

Hoffman said it is time for the Republicans to make a fight and he accused some Republicans of being "too gentlemanly" in the past. He asked why send our men to Korea to fight communism when we have Communists to fight at home. He stamped the men fighting in Korea as "forgotten men."

The permanent committee was announced with Weldon Rumery as permanent chairman; Mrs. Leo Gould of Plainwell, first vice president; Chalmers Monteth of Martin, and Mrs. Robert Hutchinson of Fennville, Walter Wightman of Saugatuck, vice chairmen; John Axe, secretary; Dr. George T. Gatten of Allegan, treasurer.

The convention passed a resolution of regret over the passing of former Circuit Judge O. S. Cross.

8 Lansing Girl Scouts See Sights in Holland

Eight Lansing area senior Girl Scouts, on a four-day, 100-mile bicycle trip from Lansing to Grand Rapids Girl Scout Camp Anna Behrin, stopped in Holland for a few hours Friday afternoon.

The camp is located nine miles north of Holland.

While in Holland, the girls ate lunch at Kollen park and visited the Netherlands Museum and Little Netherlands.

Their bicycle journey started Tuesday and they averaged from 30 to 35 miles a day. First night stop was at Vermontville where they set up camp on a farm. They spent Wednesday at Yankee Springs Recreation area, near Hastings and Thursday night set up camp at Silver Creek camping grounds in Allegan state forest.

On hand to greet them at the camp grounds was Mrs. Walter Kyes, of Allegan, one of the scouting enthusiasts who had been forewarned of the expedition.

The girls and their leaders, unhappy at the prospect of a late supper, were overjoyed to find that Mrs. Kyes and her sons John and Walter, Jr., had a fire going and a hot, home-cooked meal all ready for them. Also ready for them was a large tent set up by the state conservation department under the direction of State Forester Paul Schroeder.

Early Friday morning they set off for Holland.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Allena and Mrs. Phil Holmes, the group included Sue Layne Hodge, Judy Holmes, Barbara Lindy, Mary Ann Tinker, Susan Jane Sweet, Norma Ellen Issett, Janet Standish and Judy Hauer.

The gypsy bicycle trip is an annual event and part of the Girl Scout program. They have been preparing for the long trip all summer with side trips from Lansing to Round Lake, Williamston and other nearby towns.

The girls are 14 years old and during the trip cooked meals over open fires. Each girl carries her own bed roll and personal supplies.

One of their innovations, worth passing on, was the way they carried their eggs. They used a plastic refrigerator container into which they had carefully cracked the whole egg. "Saves bulk and eliminated the danger of breakage," Mrs. Allen pointed out.

Hamilton Rod and Gun Club Takes On Task of Restoring Fishing Area

Hamilton (Special)—Members of the Hamilton Rod and Gun club, which was organized less than a year ago, have been an ambitious and busy bunch of sportsmen.

Since its inception, the club has sponsored several projects and at present is engaged in the biggest project of the organization—that of restoring the former dam across the Rabbit river, several rods above the M-40 highway bridge and just below the high railway trestle.

The dam was damaged considerably and parts of it broken away a few years ago by high waters in the spring time. Since it wasn't used for many years to produce power facilities for mills and electricity for the town, it never was repaired.

Thus the bayou created by the dam, which in former years was a fine spot for winter ice fishing as well as leisurely summer fishing, was drained practically dry.

Sportsmen in the Hamilton area as well as fishermen from Holland, Allegan, and other surrounding areas, have deplored the loss of this bayou for fishing. So the local club took up the hard work of restoring it.

Estimated cost of the project is about $3,000. Members hope that a good concrete base built up with slopes of rock and clay to resist the waters will eliminate the danger of destruction.

The rub comes in the financial burden imposed by such a project. Club members alone cannot bear the monetary burden, so they are scratching their heads for means to raise the $3,000. Donations from interested persons—perhaps from fishermen interested in restoring the good fishing in the bayou—of course would be welcome.

The club holds regular meetings during the fall, winter and spring months, with informative programs directed at sportsmen. Officers of the Hamilton Rod and Gun club are Herman Nyhof, president, and James Hoover, secretary and treasurer. Chairman of the finance committee is Henry Funckes, assisted by Bernard Pieper, Harold Brink and Edward Lampen.

VFW Auxiliary Visits 'Home' at Eaton Rapids

Thirty members of the Holland VFW Auxiliary spent Thursday on an all-day trip to Eaton Rapids to visit the VFW Home for orphans of America's honored dead.

The VFW Home, founded in 1925 by members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and its Ladies Auxiliary, now occupies 640 acres about three miles out of Eaton Rapids. Much of this acreage is devoted to the production of food for the Home's 165 youngsters.

The Home has been developed on the cottage plan with most of the 48 states providing one or more separate units, each of which houses six to 10 children who grow up in home atmosphere under supervision of a trained house mother.

All homes are of brick construction and resemble those found in any modern subdivision built in the past 25 years. Each cottage has six to eight rooms, inviting porches, attractive lawns and nicely arranged shrubs and flower beds. No two are exactly alike.

Adjacent to the residential area are fully equipped playgrounds for the very young, tennis courts, a baseball diamond and a football field. A community center has a combined auditorium and gymnasium providing seats for 1,000 persons. The building also has a library, play rooms for pool and ping pong tables, showers and locker rooms for football.

Ford Team Nips Sunoco; Autos Wm on Forfeit

An infield single in the last of the seventh inning let the winning run score as Barber Fords noosed out Peon Sunoco 3-2 in a Holland City Softball league contest Friday night.

The scheduled second game failed to materialize as league-leading Main Auto took a forfeit victory over Skippers when the latter failed to field a team.

The Ford-Sunoco contest developed into a tight affair with neither team scoring until the fifth frame when Sunoco went ahead momentarily on a single by Will De Neff, stolen base and passed balls. Fords tied the count in their half of the fifth on a walk, stolen base and single by Chet Piersma.

Both teams scored again in the sixth. Sunoco tallied on a single by Mel Vande Water, passed ball and single by Harry De Neff. Fords countered with a lone tally on a walk, error and single by Al Dozeman.

That set the stage for the winning tally in the seventh. An infield error allowed Walt Wlodarczyk to reach base and he advanced to third on an infield single by Chet Piersma and a stolen base. Walt came home with the winning tally on a squeeze bunt executed by his brother Stan Wlodarczyk.

Norm Boeve was the winning hurler, giving only four hits including two by Will De Neff. Case Veiderman was the loser, allowing nine safeties including two each by Chet Piersma, Stan Wlodarczyk and Rich Wolters.

Car Demolished, Driver Not Hurt

A '48 model car was demolished but the driver escaped injuries about 10:15 p.m. Friday on US-31 about a quarter mile north of the big curve, six miles south of Holland.

George Shillinger, Jr., 32, Muskegon Heights, told Deputy Henry Bouwman that he attempted to pass a car and pulled back when he saw an oncoming car. His vehicle got off the road and out of control and after leaving the cement skidded and rolled 65 yards, ending wheels up in the James Koope yard. The driver said he was traveling about 70 miles an hour.

Shillinger was helped out of the overturned car and called an ambulance himself. But when the ambulance arrived, the driver decided he needed no hospitalization and hitched a ride to Saugatuck.

Deputy Bouwman said this was the eighth accident in the area in the last few weeks. Three occurred in Laketown township and one near the Sunnyside school, Bouwman said travel through country roads is difficult in many sections since vision is often obscured by tall corn and brush.

The first governmental employment bureau was established in France in 1843.

Third highest building in the world is the 984-foot Eiffel tower in Paris.
